TOP TEAMS TO CLASH IN FINAL 4 KNOCKOUT

Soccer will have a new lightning competition for the State League top four this year. It will be played over two or three weekends at the end of the season.

The exact form of the tournament has not been decided. It could be fought out on a round-robin basis or be a straight knock-out.

The matter will be discussed at the State League management committee meeting next week. Details will be announced in Soccer News.

The new top-four clash will not affect the traditional League set-up, in which the team finishing on top are champions.

The aim is to boost the game after the League battle is over, and give the three runner-up teams a last chance to down the new titleholders.

The result should be some fierce competition because the champions, after proving themselves top dogs in the League, would lose a good deal of prestige if beaten.

The Victorian game also should get a lift from the publication of the new Soccer News, starting with this first issue.

V.S.F. deputy chairman and publicity officer, John Gorton, said: "The object of the new paper is to present the true image of this international sport to the public and promote the game at all levels.

"It will contain soccer news only, with the accent on games, players, clubs and personalities.

"There will be none of the petty politics which have been brought to the fore in the past and blown up out of proportion.

"But we still intend to bring factual news of the administration of the game to the reader. We hope that all soccer lovers will support the paper".

Chance for State team

The Victorian team, which has had a big injection of new blood this season, will get a chance to show its paces next Monday.

Fifteen players and team officials will fly to Sydney for the first interstate clash of the year against New South Wales.

The N.S.W. team, which will include several almost certain starters for the Australian World Cup squad later this year, will be rated favorites by many to win. But they could be in for a shock.

The new-look Victorian line-up is keep to go. They have knuckled down to hard training under coach Zvonimir Rasic for several weeks and are in cocky mood.

Several of the regulars like Billy Cook, of Slavia, and Frank Micic, who will be back with J.U.S.T. this season, will be there to provide a steadying force for the eager new men.

The full Victorian squad is:

Among the newcomers the smart Henderson, one of the best between-the-sticks performers seen in Victoria, looks sure to get the vote in goal, but the up-and-coming Kastner will be pressing for a place soon.

Full-back Kelly is a 100 per cent. trier with a fair share of skill, and Rau, a seasoned player, combines defence and attack cleverly. They could form a stiff rearguard with the experienced Cook and Bedford, another tireless worker.

Mackay, a fine linkman who also can crack the ball home, should partner the goal-making Micic in the middle line.

Up front, the explosive Billy Vojtek, who has thrown off an injury hoodoo, is sure of a place.

He is fast and tricky and can clinch a game with a searing shot, but he should not overdo the fancy stuff.

Argus Medal winner Rooney, another ball player who can split a defence, should get the nod and the galloping George Cross striker, McCallum, is worth a place because he can turn half chances into goals in a flash.

Strong claims also will come from the J.U.S.T. pair, Mihajlovic and Buljevic, McColl and Smart.

McColl has shown little form recently and may need time to come to his best. Smart has proved that he is just that, and he also packs a hefty shot.

Buljevic is clever and a master of the ball, but he lacks the fire of Mihajlovic, a fast raider who goes straight for goal.

Full details of the N.S.W. squad were not known at press time, but it is likely to be one of the strongest for some years.

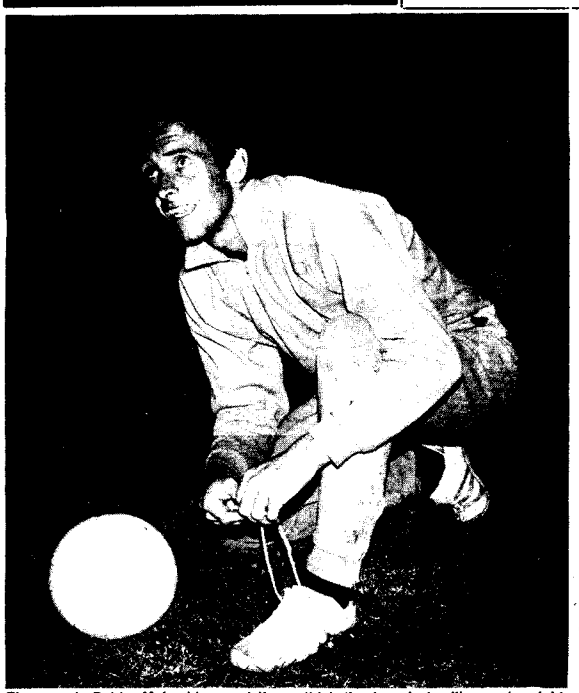
There will be plenty of power in front of goal with Attila Abonyi (St. George), Ray Baartz (Hakoah) and Johnny Warren (St. George), all Australian team regulars, available.

Abonyi, the former Melbourne star who transferred to Sydney last December, needs no introduction as one of the best goal poachers in the business. He is sure to give his former team-mates plenty of trouble.

Baartz, reckoned by many to be the best all-round striker in Australia, can blast his team to victory with cracking shots from any angle. Warren, who skippered the Australian side on its clean sweep of Asia in 1967, has few peers.

Another danger man could be the new Hakoah goal star, Willie Rutherford, who is fast off the mark and usually on target.

The face is familiar....



The name's Bobby McLachlan, and if you think the face is familiar you're right. Bobby has been on the Victorian State League soccer scene for many years, and is one of the personality players of the game. Bobby is now with newly promoted Box Hill. You can read all about this club's climb into State League in a special feature story on Pages 4 and 5 of Soccer News.

Big hope

New Melbourne player Hugh Rattray comes to the St. Kilda club with a great scoring record.

Playing for Ballarat in the Metropolitan League Division 4 last season, the 20-year-old star hammered home 58 goals — a notable feat in any company.

It took a four-figure fee to bring him to Melbourne, but it looks as if the six-footer will soon pay this off.

He set fans and officials talking when he hit the back of the net four times to help Melbourne to a 5-1 win over St. Albans in a practice match.

At St. Kilda, Rattray joints three other Melbourne youngsters who have shown natural skill and could be stars of the future — Johnny Wallace, Billy Rogers, from Sunshine City, and Paul Deeming, ex-Hellas.

BACK WE COME AGAIN

Soccer News is back for the big kick-off and the rest of the season. It will be packed with all the things that you, the soccer fans, want.

George Yelland will write each week on State League games, "Taffy" will put you on to the winning pools lines and Metropolitan League, District League games, and the junior set-up will be covered.

There also will be on-the-spot news stories and features by special writers, overseas news and a full picture coverage.

COACH HAS NEW ANGLE

Here's a new angle from a coach. . . .

. . . Les Courtier, the new man with Ringwood City-Welhelmina, has come up with the idea of pitting his Under-16 team against the seniors in practice games.

The purpose of the exercise is twofold.

Said Les: "The aim is to make the boys feel they are part of the club and to give them a chance to play in a first-team atmosphere.

"And, being young and fit, they can test the speed and physical condition of the seniors to the full.

"It also will give us a chance to pick out the more likely boys."

Polonia gamble on youth

Polonia, stripped of several of their stars, will rely on youth to pull them through in the State League this season.

Team officials know they could be up against it when the league battle hots up but they are confident that their youngsters, most of whom already have been blooded in the first team, will do a good job.

Biggest gap in the ranks will be that left by the retirement as a player of Vic Janczyk, the ageless ace who, from the half-back line, steered Polonia to the runners-up spot last year.

Janczyk, an Argus Medal winner and former Victorian skipper, hung up his boots at the end of last season after nine years with Polonia.

In those years he master-minded the Polonia side, marshalling the defence when the chips were down, then switching the team on to attack with a stream of clever passes.

Whatever his critics may say, his soccer skill enriched the Victorian game and, with his sportsmanship, set a fine example for youngsters to follow.

Now he has switched to coaching and this season he will be in charge of Juventus. This job, linked with his activities with the Victorian Soccer Coaches' Association, should ensure that his wide knowledge is not lost to the game.

Another experienced man who will disappear from the scene this season is Bert Gajda, who has been a power at half-back or forward for the past three years.

Gajda, a former Polish international, will return home next month and is unlikely to play again before leaving.

Also to make the return to Poland soon are centre-forward George Swoboda, a clever attacker, and speedy winger Ziggy Gadecki, whose tricky play won him a place in the Victorian team.

Gadecki won't leave until July but a persistent ankle injury is likely to keep him on the touchline this month.

With Janczyk gone the strongman in defence this year should be Paul Zurawkski, who arrived last season and soon proved himself to be a tough defender with plenty of skill.

He should get good support from Eddie Marmur, an improving player whose ability should soon match his strong physique. Another promising middle line man is Andrew Czapnik.

The task of turning chances into goals is likely to fall on the willing shoulders of the Wrobel brothers, Eddie and John, Stan Adamczyk, Mike Olinowski and Czes Plaskota, all products of the Polonia youth set-up.

The job of moulding the young Polonia squad into an efficient team will again fall on Kaz Kowalec, who is showing himself to be as good a coach as he was a player.

The confident outlook of the players was expressed this week by secretary Mr. A. Matyka, who said:

"This season is going to be a testing one for us without the experience of Janczyk and Co. behind us but, if dedication and fitness pay off we should give a good account of ourselves."

The club expects a new goalie to arrive next month. He is Litwin Miroslaw, who played with Gornik Walbrzych in the second division, where he was rated one of the top men. He is also a qualified second class coach.

Negotiations are also going on to sign two forwards from Poland but, if the deal goes through, they won't be able to come here until the second half of the season.

BATTLE OF PERRY PARK!

The spread of the round ball goes on — and this time it is the small State of Queensland, speaking soccerwise, which has taken a mighty step forward and dealt a blow to footy.

After a long and often fierce battle of tactics with the other code, the Queensland Soccer Federation has come out on top and opened up a big future.

The prize is a brand new headquarters, the Perry Park ground in Brisbane, for years a footy stronghold as the home of the State's top Rules club, Mayne.

And footy won't get it back for a long, long time. The Brisbane City Council has granted the soccer federation a 30-year lease of the ground.

Under the conditions of the lease the federation must immediately demolish the existing grandstand and changing rooms and erect a combined grandstand and club building with all facilities and a seating capacity of 4000.

Perry Park, in the inner city suburb of Mayne Park, has been the target of many sporting organisations.

The QSF and the Queensland Australian Rules Football League emerged as the main contenders. Now, after many months of wrangling, victory has gone to soccer in the "final".

The Australian Soccer Federation president, Sir William Walkley, had a big hand in the struggle for use of the ground.

He flew for talks with Brisbane Council officials and told them that his code, with the help of sponsors, was prepared to spend up to half a million dollars on the ground to make it a soccer showpiece.

Footy bosses were quoted at the time as saying they "couldn't compete with that kind of money".

Giantkillers!

Mooroolbark United, who missed promotion from division four by one point last season, are aiming to go one better this year.

The team got into trim for the new season by playing in — and winning — a Mountain District tournament. Two of their victims were second division Ferntree Gully and third division Croydon.

A man who will play a big part in Mooroolbark's bid for honors this season is new signing Alan Irving, a former full-time professional with English second division side Carlisle United.

He is reported to have turned down offers from several Melbourne clubs before joining Mooroolbark.

Other newcomers are Peter Bailey, from Ringwood City-Wilhelmina, and 18-year-old Jimmy Johnson, an inside-forward from Scottish side Stranraer.

Mooroolbark have the backing of the Lilydale Shire Council, who have laid out a new pitch for them. This will be used only for first team games.

Floodlights, powerful enough for training and practice games, have been erected.

GOODBYE... AND HELLO!

State League champions Croatia lost one of their stars this week — but another will soon return to the fold.

The man to go is tricky forward Hammy McMeechan, who has had itchy feet for some time. The man returning is Billy McIntyre, the bustling striker who top-scored last year.

McMeechan, who was a regular in the Victorian team, has joined Western Suburbs, a professional side in the Sydney second division.

The Scot, who joined Croatia at the beginning of 1965 from Slavia, was a key man in attack and notched some great goals. But he had a weak spot — trying to beat one man too many. This spoiled a lot of his good play.

He hit the high spots in 1965 when he went to Cambodia with the Australian team for World Cup elimination games. He played against most touring teams in Victoria, going very well in the games with Manchester United in 1967.

McIntyre has his best season with Croatia last year, when he proved himself to be one of the strongest goalgetters in the league. The club expects him to return from Scotland soon.

Also due back is inside-forward Peter Davies, who showed up well towards the end of last season. He could be here for the start of the new season.

Committee to probe

A special three-man study committee is to be set up to check on the present constitution of the Australian Soccer Federation and recommend possible changes.

It will comprise one delegate from Victoria and New South Wales, one from all other States and one from F.I.F.A., the world-ruling body.

The three will report back to the States after making a full investigation.

The decision to probe the A.S.F. set-up, taken at the annual meeting in Sydney last weekend, appears to have staved off — for the time being — another head-on clash between Victoria and N.S.W. and the smaller States on voting rights.

George Yelland sums up the 1969 season

SOCCER FACING A YEAR OF DESTINY

Falling attendances at all spectator sports has not left soccer unscarred. In recent years the world's No. 1 ball game has been hit hard in many countries.

This is true of soccer in Victoria. Fans want to see fast, ATTACKING soccer. Goals and more goals rouse the fevered enthusiasm of most followers of the sport. Heavy responsibility rests with coaches to ensure that emphasis is maintained on attack.

Players must be more dedicated in training and match play. Some of the shoddy, half-hearted displays seen in recent years only help to empty the terraces.

Players have been guilty of helping to kill the goose which lays THE golden egg.

True followers of the sport are not easily fooled. Recognising good soccer, skilful ball play and 100 per cent. effort, they will not settle for less.

Club managements, aware of this, have strengthened their teams, in many cases signing goal-getting forwards.

CROATIA, triple 1968 champions, are sure to set a hot pace. They will be the side to beat.

Brilliant forward Hammy McMeechan has gone to Sydney, joining Australia's only fully professional club, second division Western Suburbs.

Offsetting this loss is the return of ace striker Billy McIntyre. His many brilliant goals for Croatia thrilled fans time and again.

Direct and bustling forward Peter Davies is also returning from the U.K. These two will help to strengthen a side which is already bursting with talent.

Schemer-in-chief is linkman Jim MacKay. He has scored many goals with bullet-like drives and has been a regular in the State side for several years.

Mercurial Billy Vojtek, another State regular and near certainty for Australia's 1969 World Cup team, is Croatia's ace in the hole. He can turn a game in a flash with a sudden dart upfield and cannonball drive. A fantastic ball, player, he is sometimes guilty of over-elaboration, but always spells danger when in possession.

MELBOURNE, winners of the State League flag and also the Australia Cup in 1967, had a disastrous season in 1968, barely escaping relegation.

Injuries to key players and the loss of Allan Connolly to Juventus were factors, but team spirit and the will to win appeared to have gone.

Coach George Buttas and team manager Bob Armstrong are out to restore ability and team spirit. Officials are quietly confident that this year will be one of revival.

Brilliant young keeper Henri Surma, who missed many games last year through injury, has gone into hospital for an operation on his hand. He will miss the first few games, but has a capable deputy in Tom Gerrard.

JUVENTUS, who this year will make Olympic Park their headquarters, had their worst season ever in 1968. A lot of this could be traced to the loss of experienced pivot George Scott, but for much of the season they played like a ship without a rudder.

Juventus are determined to redeem themselves and regain lost prestige and support.

It is known that a very talented forward, with Football League experience, will arrive from Wales, and from the Scottish Highland League a spearhead with an outstanding record of goal scoring. Juventus might start slowly, but could be a force.

Two men already signed up are full-back Keith Lakey from top Yorkshire amateur club Stockton and Sammy McAspurn, 22, captain and top scorer from District League club Doveton.

PORT MELBOURNE SLAVIA is another side which on paper is loaded with talent, but spoiled their chances last season with too many lack-lustre displays. On their day they were invincible and, with a solid defence revolving round sheet-anchor Billy Cook, may well have a big say in things.

Up forward much will depend on the scheming of Willie Kerr, the cannonball shooting of big Russell Steele, and the ability of Ian Reid to find his scoring touch of two seasons ago.

HAKOAH, who start off with a bang and tend to fizzle out late in the season, are determined to figure among the trophies this time. Realising that "anno domini" was their greatest threat, they have introduced youth into the side and this must pay off.

Hakoah have the best goalkeeper in the State in Sandy Henderson, and one of our finest pivots in Dick van Alphen. Promising young half-back David Baker is returning from the U.K.

Although finishing in the four, Hakoah were only sixth highest scorers last season, averaging less than a goal and a half per match. Determined to improve on this, Hakoah have signed Brian McDonald from Harlow Town, who played in the premier English amateur Isthmian League.

SOUTH MELBOURNE HELLAS, with 38 goals, were second highest scorers last year and recently won the Ampol Night Cup. Always playing attractive, attacking soccer, they have two of the League's best wingers in Leo Damianakos and Jimmy Pyrgollos.

Loss of star linkman Frank Micic is a body blow and Hellas will have problems replacing him.

The comeback of Michael Mandalis after twice breaknig a leg, Johnny Bedford's great drive, and the rugged first-line defence of David Kelly and Andre Roussis are factors which make Hellas a side to be feared.

LIONS were the most improved side in State League in 1968. Argus Medal winner in his first season, Jimmy Rooney was the most potent figure in this upsurge.

Gerry Murney, Steve Walker and Frank Schwartz make a steady middle line. Jimmy Smart, a speedy raider with a hard finishing shot, and bustling Tommy Roseweir should also help to put Lions in at the kill.

POLONIA finished runners-up and were amply repaid for their far-sighted junior policy. Over half the side were boys who started in the juniors. The remainder were experienced players like ex-Polish international Norbert Gajda, Vic Janczyk, Ziggy Gadecki and George Swoboda. This year, Polonia will lose all four and much will depend on juniors under the generalship of experienced pivot Paul Zurawski.

BOX HILL, newcomers to the State League, will have a hard fight to establish themselves.

If determination and team spirit count, they will do well. Coach Peter Craig is a tough, experienced campaigner and will produce a fit combination, full of fight.

FOOTSCRAY J.U.S.T., without a win in the first half of last season, stayed up only on goal average. It was their worst year ever.

With the arrival of Milan Mihajlevic, Branko Buljevic and Slobadan Zoraja, J.U.S.T.'s fortunes took a turn for the better.

With State coach Zvonimir Rasic in charge and the team playing their usual copybook soccer, I tip J.U.S.T. as the dark horse.

RINGWOOD CITY WILHELMINA had a good year on their return to top company and justified their promotion.

Advent of coach Les Courtier, who has coached round the world, has brought a fluid defensive system which confounded Hellas in the night competition and may well give Wilhelmina a high position in the League if their forwards finish better.

GEORGE CROSS, unpredictable last season, have talent in abundance. Lou Kastner in goal is already one of the finest keepers in the State and Nick McCallum is the most dangerous spearhead, particularly with his head.

Players like young Horst Friederberg, obviously a State player of the future; Falconer Ireland, an improving pivot; wily Archie Campbell; team general John Sanchez; clever inside-forward John Gardiner, and others, could be a winning line-up.

In comes the ball from the corner and players in the Melbourne v. Elwood Austria match of the Harry Armstrong Reserve Cup competition go into action at Elwood last weekend.

WE'RE SET TO SCORE WELL

Despite rumblings on the national front, which seem likely to be heard for some time, soccer in Victoria looks set to score well this year.

Much behind-the-scenes work, about which the fans may know little, has been going on.

With the birth of a new soccer paper, aimed at putting you—the people who support the game—in the picture, the time has come to blow your own trumpet a little.

There has been the usual pre-season flurry of activity in the top bracket, the State League, with new signings by most clubs and plans for the coming League and Cup battles being laid.

This is a necessary part of the build-up for the senior game, but even better news is that some big strides have been taken down in the basement — schools and junior soccer—thanks to some dedicated and far-sighted officials.

This is where the big effort is needed. Buildings won't stand up without good foundations and obviously this goes for soccer, too.

The tendency has been to go along with the big boys in the chase for success and quick cash returns. Now if the code is to develop and have an assured future, the emphasis must be shifted.

There are hundreds of youngsters — and they are not all migrant children—clamouring to play soccer. Proof of this has come from coaches who have visited schools to give instruction.

We just cannot afford to ignore this reservoir of possible talent for the future.

Steps must be taken to ensure that promising boys are not lost to the game mainly through lack of encouragement. This is where we have slipped up in the past.

The VSF should act now to devise a scheme, possibly on a zonal basis, under which boys would be channelled into the various clubs to start a senior career under the guidance of qualified coaches.

If this was done there would be no worries for the future. Even if only one or two boys in every ten made the grade at the top, the effort would pay off.

Because of this need to catch them young, the breakthrough into the schools, made at the end of last year, after a long battle, is exciting news.

The game is now on the official curriculum of State schools. It already is played at many non-State schools, so the door to success is open.

Main credit for this big step forward goes to the Victorian Soccer Coaches' Association, whose members have spent many long and unpaid hours introducing the game to eager youngsters.

It is hoped to step up the program this year with coaching clinics and film shows, etc. Asociation officials are hopeful that if all goes well a schools' league could be in operation next year.

With the schools move, these are some of the developments which should boost the Victorian game this year:

- A proposed new top four competition for the State League, to be played at the end of the season.
- Big interstate games on a home-and-away basis, with New South Wales and South Australia, and possibly other representative matches.
- Two full internationals between Australia and Greece scheduled for Olympic Park later this year.
- Several Victorian players likely to be named for the Australian squad which will go to South Korea for World Cup elimination games in October.
- A fine gesture by all Metropolitan League clubs to give $20 a year each to help school soccer—a total of about $1000.
- A boost for the District League, with more than 30 teams playing, and a growing junior set-up.
- Successful preliminary courses held by the Coaches' Association, with many candidates qualifying to move to a more advanced stage.

Close games

By George Yelland

Soccer season 1969 kicks off this week-end with a full round of State League matches. Every game will be full of interest and clear cut wins difficult to forecast.

Saturday will find Wilhelmina at Essendon in an effort to beard the Lions in their own den. Both defences conceded only 24 goals last season.

A close, low-scoring game is indicated, with a draw likely, but the magic of Rooney (Lions) or Spiekerman (Wilhelmina) could swing it either way.

George Cross take on the new look J.U.S.T. in a contest between speedy, direct soccer and ball artistry.

With the driving force of Frank Micic, I tip J.U.S.T. to collect full points, but do not forget that Cross never admit defeat.

Much will depend on the battle between McCallum and Rice.

A big crowd will be at St. Kilda for this game, which should be a beauty.

Saturday's third game will be at Wembley Park, Box Hill. The promoted Box Hill will have an unenviable task for their first match, when they take on last year's premiers.

I cannot see the home side getting anything out of this game, for Croatia carry too many big guns.

Home advantage may count for a little, and if the "Hillites" go straight into attack, they may cause the visitors some problems, but it will be a fiery baptism.

Port Melbourne Slavia battle with Ampol Cup winners South Melbourne Hellas, on Sunday. This game probably will take place at Olympic Park.

Hellas played their second leg challenge match against Sydney Prague on Wednesday and, without Micic, I think they will go down to Slavia.

If Hellas get in front they look twice the team, but I cannot see Cook and Co. giving anything away. A number of Hellas players do not like hard, first-line tackling, a feature of Slavia's play.

Polonia and Juventus will meet at Maribyrnong on Sunday and the outcome is difficult to predict.

Polonia's youngsters will miss the tactical brilliance of former captain Vic Janczyk, now coach of the visitors. Janczyk could hold the key to the outcome of this game.

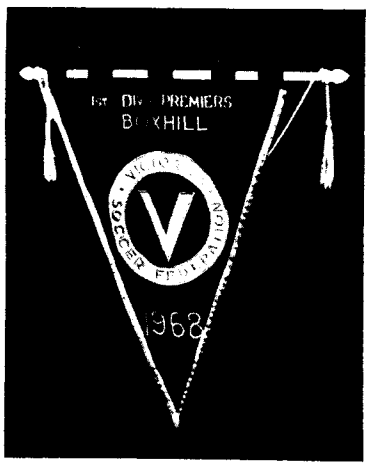
Juventus are still rebuilding and may lack understanding. I predict a low-scoring game.

Sixth game of the round, also on Sunday, will find arch-rivals Hakoah and Melbourne locked in a struggle at Middle Park.

Hakoah's new signings may give their goal-shy forward line the sparkle it has often lacked. Melbourne will be flat out to prove that last year was just too bad to be true.

Hakoah's half-back line will hold the key and I think that the home team will have a clear-cut win.

Altogether, a round full of interest and fans should roll up in big numbers to see the new talent and assess their favorite's chances for the season's honors.



FROM THE STABLE TO THE STATE LEAGUE

If fitness and determination count for anything in the State League struggle Box Hill, who step back into top company this season, will not be the pushover that many people think.

They won promotion the hard way last year, saying goodbye to the first division with only one point to spare over Dandenong after a see-saw tussle which was not decided until the last games.

The Box Hill officials reckon it was their team's fitness and will to win which pulled them through in face of the strong Dandenong challenge, and they're confident that this same spirit will surprise some of the big boys this term.

Listen to player-coach Peter Craig, a man of long experience in soccer and one who is under no illusions about the task which faces the enthusiastic Hillmen:

"We have no particular stars and make no claims to great soccer skill but, when the chips are down and it comes to fitness and staying power, I'll back my fellows to equal the best.

"They've worked really hard in training and it should pay off. They started with plenty of the hard stuff, cross-country work and other stamina-building sessions, and latterly they've been concentrating on ball skills.

"Now it is up to them. Obviously it is on the cards that we will take a hiding from some of the top sides but I'm confident that we can do enough to prove that we are worthy of State League status."

Craig, who joined Box Hill in 1964, learned his soccer in the hard Scottish school and before coming to Australia was on the books of Hearts, Forfar Athletic, East Fife and Berwick.

He stayed as player-coach with Box Hill until the end of 1966, played a season in the State League with Makedonia, then returned to Box Hill last year, coaching them to the first division title.

Craig, who will form the team selection committee with former president Tommy White and former secretary Bill Buck, is keen to play again this year and is likely to be called upon to don his boots, especially if the forwards are not going well.

Another man who fancies Box Hill's chances of staying in the State League is president Haydn Sidebottom, who said:

"It was a great team effort which did the trick last season, with the defence the strong-point, and the picture could be the same this year.

"Last year we seemed to be running on when other teams were tiring and this gave us the edge. The man we owe most to is Peter Craig, who brought the best out of the team.

"But the tension was on right up to the last round and there were times when we thought we were not going to make it.

"We had to beat Moreland in the final match of the season to take the title because Dandenong had a better goal average. You can imagine how we felt when we ran out 5-0 winners.

"This year we'll be trying for a place in the top eight to qualify for the Night Cup but of course the first aim is to make sure we stay up.

"It will take use a few weeks to settle down and get used to the faster pace, but I think we can make it."

The club will rely mainly on the same line-up as last year, the only big signing to date being Bobby McLachlan, from Croatia, who will stiffen the defence at full-back.

McLachlan, who had League experience in Britain and also played with Slavia and Lions, has made a comeback to the game after twice breaking a leg.

Others expected to be prominent include centre-half Jimmy Young, club best-and-fairest last year, half-back Dick Rae, voted the best player several times, and the one-armed forward, Bobby McLeish.

McLeish, who lost an arm in an accident at work some years ago, has surprised everyone and shown courage in overcoming his handicap and is likely to be among the goals again.

Among many promising youngsters are 18-year-old Donald Brownlie, who has already made the first team squad, and Paul Corke, 17, who has impressed at centre-half.

The club's ground at Wembley Park has been re-seeded by the Box Hill Council and should be in good shape for the kick-off. But that famous slope to one end, which can put opponents off their stride, is still there.

The council is also expected to bank up one side of the ground soon to increase the capacity.

President Haydn Sidebottom, a keen soccer man, gets strong backing from secretary Mark Glennerster and treasurer Ernie Patterson, and there are many other helpers who get on quietly with the job, caring for the under-12, under-14 and under-16 sides, etc.

Apart from Prahran, the Box Hill club, founded in 1922 by the late Jack and George Young, claims to be the oldest in Victoria. The team was relegated from the senior league in 1961.

Mr. Bob Turnbull, a Blackburn businessman who was one of the original players, recalls that the first practice matches were played at Reagans Paddock, near Woodehouse Grove, and the first official game at a new ground in Woodehouse Grove in 1923.

The first committee meetings were held in a stable near the present public library in Whitehorse Road. It is believed that the first elected president was a Mr. H. Clark.

A new ground was obtained in 1926 on Springfield Park at the corner of Springfield Road and Dorking St. It was called the Cow Paddock, according to Councillor Lundgren, who played for the club from 1928-1932.

In the early 1930s the team shifted to what is now the Box Hill Cemetery and some years later moved again to the site of today's Box Hill High School.

About this time the Fox family from Ireland became associated with the club. Granny Fox, well known to all Box Hill fans, still attends some games at Wembley Park.

During the 1939 war the team switched to Surrey Park. In 1948 they won the premiership for the first time, and the final move, to Wembley Park, came in 1959.

Well-known former players with Box Hill include Johnny Bedford, now with Hellas, Walter Patterson, ex-Juventus and Makedonia, Angus Drennan, still playing in his forties with University, and Ian McLeod, an Argus Medal winner.

The present first team manager, Bill Stewart, a life member of the club, is reckoned to have done more for them than anyone.

Among the pioneers who built up the club spirit of which Box Hill is so proud today were Councillors Lundgren, Willis and Broadhead and businessmen Bob Turnbull, Ted Weston, Jack Young, David Fox, Tim Lonergan, Bob Brown, Bill Johnstone and many others.

Ted Weston, who has followed Box Hill for 38 years, regards Jim Willis as the club's most outstanding player. Willis joined them in 1928 and won international caps against China and Jugoslavia.

Today's players, who have inherited this long history, are determined to make a strong bid to add further chapters.

The full first team squad, named recently, is:

Peter Craig, forward and player-coach; Bobby McLachlan, full-back; and Bobby McLeish, forward, whose backgrounds are given above. The others are:

John Slade, born in Kent. A much-travelled goalie signed from Brighton last season;

Eddie Wilson, born in Scotland. A good goalie who won a regular first team spot in 1967. Previously with Albion Rovers;

Jimmy Campbell, born in Scotland. Hard-tackling full-back signed recently. Regular in the Army, stationed at Watsonia. Played for Far East Command.

Tommy White, born in Barrhead. First team regular for more than 10 seasons. Formerly an inside-forward, now at full-back.

Donald Brownlie, born in Glasgow. Half-back, 18, who moved into the first team last season after winning best-and-fairest in the reserves. Signed from Doncaster. A former Scottish schoolboy international.

David Oxton, born Birkenhead. Ball-playing inside man signed from Makedonia in 1967. Top scorer last season.

Dick Rae, born Luton, half-back. Outstanding player with club for several seasons. Formerly with George Cross.

Jimmy Young, born in Glasgow. Leading player last year. Big things are predicted for this tough centre-half this season;

Norman Voce, born in Manchester. Represented Victoria as a junior. Dangerous, hard working utility forward with hard right foot shot.

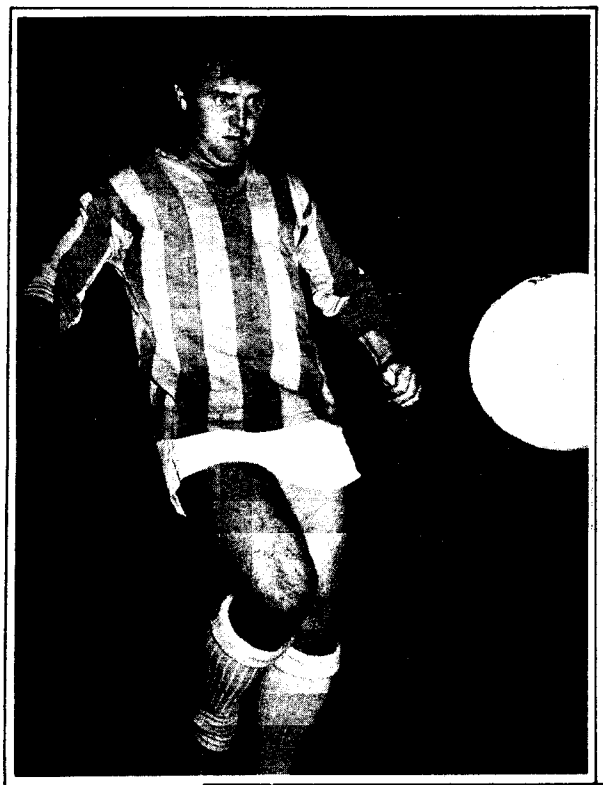
The following two youngsters are considered good prospects:

Nicky Koomen, born in Holland. Best-and-fairest junior last year, this 18-year-old soon moved up. Made first team debut against Elwood last season;

Paul Corke, 17, joined juniors from Slavia last year. Won reserve spot at centre-half. Could be knocking on first team door this year.

Promising Box Hill youngester Paul Corke, 17, heads the ball at training. He could get a place in the club's first team this year.

Goalie Eddie Wilson keeps his eyes on the ball as it comes to him during training.



It's back to the State League for former Moreland and Juventus winger Davy Oxton, who is now with Box Hill, promoted this year to the State League.

BOOST FOR THE CODE

By Alistair Cook

The Metropolitan Leagues, so often and so long considered the Cinderellas of Victorian soccer, are on the verge of a major break-through which will give the code an all-round boost, and advance the long-term aim of making soccer Australia's No. 1 winter sport.

The start of the 1969 League season this Saturday, which will see a full match program, will certainly lead to more interest and better support than ever has been experienced in Metropolitan League soccer.

Soccer is more widely distributed in the Melbourne suburbs than it has been in past years.

Generally, clubs are on a much better footing financially, as small bands of administrators give their time, experience and money to assure the future of not only their clubs, but of the game in general.

Marked organisational improvements have been made. These are noticeable in the administration of the clubs.

And it would provide quite an eye-opener if an assessment was made of all the ground improvements of the metropolitan clubs.

In the past couple of years the gates have been reopened to several provincial clubs to play in the Metropolitan Leagues.

This has won the approval of all who want to see the game placed on a broader basis, and has provided opportunities for country clubs with foresight and initiative.

Yallourn and Ballarat are two examples of what can be achieved by clubs outside the metropolitan area.

The managements of metro. teams have jumped on to the bandwagon in co-operating and producing their own players, with the result that more and more locally-bred boys are being introduced to the game.

Several clubs, also, are stepping in before their State League rivals, and are signing recently arrived and unannounced players.

Of course, a number of State League clubs have at long last woken up to the fact that considerable potential exists in all four divisions of the Metro Leagues.

Proof of this is seen in the recent signings of Billy Rogers, of Sunshine City, and Colin Horner, of Park Rangers, by Melbourne and Lions respectively.

On the other hand it appears that many, but not all, of the State League clubs are at long last prepared to allow their unwanted players to join Metropolitan League clubs for at most a nominal or moderate fee.

This is a step in the right direction by State League sides, who will reap the benefit at some time or another from clubs they have helped with players.

With a vast surplus of former State League coaches available, many clubs are in a position to secure men with much more experience than was previously possible.

Many clubs also are starting to get effective support from their local councils.

Despite the anti-soccer bias which still exists in several parts of Melbourne, soccer lovers are getting more and more encouragement from election-minded local governments to participate and develop the game locally.

A most important development in Metro. soccer is the fantastic progress of the code in the western suburbs, with St. Albans, Altona and Sunshine City flying the First Division banner, with many others sprinkled in the lower divisions.

The number of junior teams in this district is imposing, and providing they are nursed carefully, the potential here could be enormous in future years.

This also applies to many more districts throughout the metropolitan area, where pockets of major development and a break-through into the big time will have to be gradually watched and followed up by those managing the Metropolitan Leagues.

The future looks healthier and brighter for the Metropolitan League clubs than it ever has done in the past.

With the opening of the 1969 season in sight, the need now is for a concentrated effort by everyone concerned to ensure the future and development of the game.

Time needed for power to show

Although the Harry Armstrong and Dockerty Cup preliminary rounds have been in full swing, at this stage it is not practical to present an overall picture of the playing capabilities of each side in the four Metropolitan divisions.

At least a couple of weeks of League soccer are needed to determine the strengths and weaknesses of each team.

But it seems certain that Dandenong City, Preston-Makedonia and Elwood-Austria again will prove to be the major forces in Division 1, with relegated State League side Alexander the only obstacle to these and other clubs' chances of success.

There should be an even tougher battle for supremacy in Division 2, with Frankston City, Sandringham and Albion Rovers fighting it out with the newly-promoted Yallourn for a step up the ladder.

Country side Ballarat will not find it so easy in Division 3, where they will have to contend with East Melbourne-Helvetic, Croydon and St. Kilda before they, too, can step up the ladder.

Leading clubs in Division 4 this year again should be Moorooibark United, Corio and Newport, with Eltham, who have replaced Essendon in the competition, providing some idea of District League standards.

In the opening rounds this Saturday, and topping the bill at Olympic Park, will be the clash between Alexander and Altona City.

Somewhat unlucky to be relegated from the State League, Alexander will face a strong and purposeful Altona side, whose attack has been strengthened by the signing of winger Raymond King, from Footscray J.U.S.T.

In Division 2, the big attraction will be the Yallourn v. Albion Rovers fixture. The country side will be hoping for a repeat of last week's Dockerty Cup game, which Yallourn won 2-1.

Brighton, once a glamour side in Victorian soccer, and now relegated to Division 3, must clearly emphasise their superiority in their opening match against Glenroy United if they are to have any real chance of promotion.

The Monash University student side provide the opposition in Division 4 for newcomers Eltham, who have taken the place of Essendon, and they should account for them easily.

ALISTAIR COOK SELECTS:

FIRST DIVISION: Alexander, Preston-Makedonia, Ringwood United, Dandenong City, Sunshine City, Springvale.

SECOND DIVISION: Yallourn, Ferntree Gully, Moreland Thistle, Frankston Sandringham City, Park Rangers.

THIRD DIVISION: Bayswater, Brighton, Croydon, Clayton, Ballarat, East Melbourne Helvetic.

FOURTH DIVISION: South Yarra, Doncaster Rovers, Newport, Monash University, Corio, Moorooibark United.

Will publicity officers or secretaries please phone me with match reports on their clubs on 329-7582 and any other information each Sunday morning, from 9.30 a.m. to 11.30 a.m.

TEAMS MUST BE ON TOES

By Rick Lavale

District Soccer is at last gaining the recognition its large following deserves. As from this week, a weekly column will appear in Soccer News keeping you up to date with all the news in District Soccer.

With the stage all set for the season to kick off on Sunday, most clubs and their supporters will be enthusiastic about their team's prospects.

last year's premiership sides — Frankston Pines (Eastern Division), Anstey (Central) and West Sunshine United (Western) — will have to be right on their toes to retain the No. 1 spots in their respective divisions.

Main contenders to take the premierships away from the current holders appear to be Langwarrin and Chadstone in Eastern Division, Fitroy in Central Division and Kingsville in Western Division.

All these clubs have the officials and playing strength to be a major threat to any sides in their league.

Twelve new clubs have been admitted this year, and judging by the results of practice matches they will make their presence felt, with Oakleigh being possibly the most outstanding new club for 1969.

Oakleigh will be closely followed by East Carlton, who last season won the Eastern Suburbs League.

Last minute withdrawals from the League are La Trobe University and Doveton. The Uni. boys did not have enough players to fulfill league commitments, which is a pity because they have a good ground and excellent facilities.

Doveton's withdrawal came as a shock, because they ran two teams last year and have had junior teams for three seasons. Their decision not to compete in Eastern Division left about 30 players without a game.

Diamond Creek, one of the newly admitted clubs, is situated 19 miles from Melbourne and will help to open up soccer in the new area. The side comprised mainly of local players, will be coached by Dave Davidson, who was a Hampshire League referee in England.

Fitzroy, who are run by Tony Toigo, are one of the most progressive clubs. Local supporters have just donated two sets of shirts and socks, while the committee have presented each player with a set of boots.

The Chadstone team have had their ground graded and dressing rooms and pavilion erected by the council. They have obtained transfers for Terry Cash and John Turner, from Waverley City. Tommy Doolan, star Northcote forward, will be transferred to Chadstone this week.

One of the clubs whose ground was badly waterlogged last season was South Dandenong. They have had the surface graded, but report that it still needs further improvements.

North Altona, another new club, are awaiting the start of the season full of confidence. They are coached by Loverto Constentone, who was player-coach of Libertas. They have gained transfers for Dominic Loschiava, a half-back from Park Rangers, and Minnata, an inside forward who has played State League soccer with Juventus. In a recent practice match they defeated North Sunshine 9-2.

This year will see the District League run a Reserve League for the first time. It will comprise 10 teams who will come from all three divisions.

This new venture will bring the numbers of District teams to more than 40.

Club secretaries may contact me at 651 6583 or 57 5977 (A.H.)

My selections for this week are — EASTERN: Oakleigh, Hawksburn, Frankston Pines, Langwarrin, Army Apprentices v. Northcote match is postponed; CENTRAL: Fitzroy, Middle Park, Keon Park, Anstey. Lorrimer United v. Fawkner postponed; WESTERN: North Altona v. Garden City draw; Yarraville, Kingsville, Pascoe Vale.

Miss Soccer quest on

The 1969 Miss Soccer quest is now on, and supporters of all clubs are invited to take part.

Entries, with pictures, should be sent to The Secretary, Victorian Soccer Federation, 52 Fitzroy St., St. Kilda, 3182.

The winner, to be named at the VSF Ball later this year, will qualify for the Miss Victoria contest, with the possibility of going on to the Miss Australia quest.

YORKSHIREMAN

Another new face in the Juventus line-up is Keith Lakey, a 22-year-old full-back who played with Stockton in Yorkshire and was also on the books of Middlesbrough. He was signed after a good showing against West Adelaide Hellas recently.

Juniors get a record 200 teams

By JOHN ROBB

A record 200 junior teams will kick off the junior season on Saturday, April 1.

A total of 2500 boys from Under 8 to Under 18 will be registered and insured with the Victorian Soccer Federation.

Each year the number of teams and players is increasing remarkably, and in the coming season the juniors welcome clubs from the Diamond Valley.

The Diamond Valley, with Latrobe Valley, are helping to take any parochial aspect out of soccer by giving the game a wide coverage.

This year's record number of participating juniors reflects the effort, time and money being spent by officials of the various clubs, ensuring a bright future for soccer in Victoria.

U.K. CLAMPS DOWN ON VIOLENCE

Violence, injury and vandalism by soccer fans have marred the British season, now nearing its end, but moves to combat the trouble may soon be taken.

A committee of inquiry, set up by the Minister for Sport, Mr. Denis Howell, is preparing its report. A registered referee, has put forward his own ideas on the problem.

He suggested that clubs should provide more seats and pen the fans into smaller groups. Police should be placed at the back of the terraces.

At games this year people have been injured by bottles, filed-down coins and beer cans, and a 17-year-old boy was stabbed.

Shop windows have been smashed and underground stations and trains damaged. Even motorists have been attacked, policemen assaulted and stores looted.

Plans are also afoot to clean up play on the field.

Players, referees, chairmen, directors and managers have been warned by the Football Association and Football League that an improvement must be made in standards of conduct and control.

The warning has come from members of the referees' committee in consultation with the management committee of the League.

The points made are:

Players must accept the referee's decision and referees must accept their responsibilities to enforce the laws of the game to combat violent conduct, serious foul play and all acts of gamesmanship.

Referees must also take action in accordance with law 12 in respect of all incidents of dissent on the part of players.

Officials must impress upon players that their conduct shall be in accordance with the letter and spirit of the game.

Allan ended their hopes

Top-priced Leicester striker Allan Clarke put paid to West Brom's hopes of going to Wembley for the second year in succession with a smart 87th minute goal in the delayed semi-final at Hillsborough last Saturday.

So it's Leicester v. Manchester City on April 26.

Leicester have reached Wembley three times before for three defeats. They were beaten 3-1 by another Manchester side, United, in 1963 2-0 by Spurs in 1961, and 3-1 by Wolves in 1949.

City were 1-0 Cup winners in 1904 against Bolton, 1934 against Portsmouth (2-1), and 1956 against Birmingham (3-1). They were beaten 1-0 by Bolton in 1926, 3-0 by Everton in 1933, and 3-1 by Newcastle in 1955.

$200,000 now on Toshack

A year ago Fulham were bidding about $110,000 for lanky Cardiff City striker John Toshack, who is really getting among the goals.

But Cardiff manager Jimmy Scoular forecast that the player's value could mount to over $200,000 within 18 months. Now Toshack is reported to have attracted a couple of bids around $170,000. Both were turned down.

Toshack toured Australia with the Welsh side last year.

TAFFY on the POOLS

What a shocking week to start tipping again! Nineteen draws last Saturday and the dividends look like being an almost record low.

While an increase in the number of draws this season resulted in a slump in treble chance pay-outs, the other pools have been paying better than average dividends so far.

The break-up of the draws was four in the First Division, three in the Second, six in the Third, two in the Fourth and four in the Scottish games on the coupons.

The balance was 12 Aways and 16 Homes, with three postponed games. The Four Aways should give a reasonable payout, but whereas the Treble Chance will be low, the Eight and Nine results will be in the near record for these pools.

The dividends for Saturday, March 22, when there were 12 draws, paid:

LITTLEWOODS

Treble chance: 24 pts., £11,713/12/4; 23 pts., £69/8/-; 22½ pts., £36/9/-; 22 pts., £3/13/-; 21½ pts., £1/3/-.

Twelve match results pools: 10 correct and 2 postponed, £57/8/- for 2d.; 9 correct, £1/8/0; 8 correct, 4/-.

Three draws, 72/-; Nine Results, 584/-; Four Aways, 24/-.

VERNONS

Treble Chance: 24 pts., £2942/14/- for a farthing; 23 pts., £18/11/-; 22½ pts., £9/15/-; 22 pts., 12/-. Twelve Match result pool: 11 correct, £203/16/- for 2d.; 10 correct £4/12/-; 9 correct, 6/-.

Three Draws, 76/-; Eight Results, 608/-; Four Aways, 24/-; Simple Six (one postponed), 108/-.

And now for the matches next Saturday week, April 12.

As there are not many weeks to go to the end of the season, it is worth studying the League table on this page.

Particular notice must be taken not only for teams fighting for promotion, but also those who will be putting every effort in to avoid relegation.

Also remember the old adage that home ground advantage in many ways gives a team a goal start. So here we go for next Saturday week, with my selections for those hard-to-find Eight Draws, which will bring in the lolly.

TREBLE CHANCE

*Newcastle United v. Manchester United.
Queen's Park Rangers v. Stoke.
*West Ham United v. Chelsea.
Aston Villa v. Birmingham.
*Carlisle United v. Cardiff City.
Huddersfield Town v. Charlton Athletic.
*Millwall v. Derby Cnty.
Barnsley v. Torquay Utd.
*Bournem'th v. Watford.
Bradf'd City v. Rochdale.
*Darlington v. Aldershot.
*Clyde v. St. Mirran.
Patrick Thistle v. Dundee United.
*Stirling Albion v. East Stirling.

FOUR AWAYS

*Liverpool.
Tottenham Hotspurs.
*Blackpool.
*Crystal Palace.
Chester.
*Doncaster Rovers.

And now for the stake-savings man, with my Home selections:

EIGHT AND NINE RESULTS

*Everton.
*Manchester City.
Bolton Wanderers.
*Middlesbrough.
Portsmouth.
*Luton Town.
Plymouth Argyle.
*Rotherham United.
*Swindon Town.
Newport County.
*Swansea Town.
Workington.
*Airdrieonians.
*Hearts.

Until next week, happy punting — TAFFY.

THIS DOLL HAS SEEN ALL

Don Revie, Leeds United boss and one of Britain's top managers, is an ultra-suspicious character. . . .

In his otherwise sober office at Elland Road he keeps a large blue-and-white mascot doll. It has been with him since he took over eight years ago.

That doll has "seen it all". The transformation of Leeds from forgotten failures into the most feared team in soccer . . . the rocketing rise from the second division . . . the hard-won battle to lead the first division.

BEST IS GOOD!

West Ham starlet 18-year-old Clyde Best, who played in the World Cup for his native Bermuda, has impressed the critics and looks set to go places.
